The Central Trades and Labor assembly of this city has adopted the following resolution bearing upon the recent Colorado strike trouble:

"Whereas, A most distressing calamity has resulted from the intense bitterness that has existed between capital and labor in Teller county, Colo., a feeling engendered, encouraged and fostered by the Mine-Owners' association; and

"Whereas, A number of tollers came to their death through the greed and vindictiveness of such Mine-Owners' association, and an offspring of the Citizens' Alliance; and

"Whereas, Any body of men who will so far defy civil law and order as to present themselves in a mob before a sworn, bonded and high executive of the civil law with a coil of rope and demand his resignation or his life, is certainly not beyond the pale of suspicion; be it,

Resolved, That the Trades and Labor assembly of Ogden deplores the calamity that has visited the miners of Colorado, and ask that the judgment of popular opinion be supported as against organized labor in Teller county until a full and fair trial can be had, as we believe this crime can, and may be traced to the direct or indirect acts of the associated mine-owners."

LINE OF RAILS
FOLLOWS DITCH

Mr. Bancroft Gives Cheering News of a New Idaho Railroad.

"JUST as soon as irrigation plans demonstrate the development of the region, construction will commence on the Mindokoka and Southwestern road," said Vice-President Bancroft of the Short Line system last evening just as he was going home after his arrival from Chicago.

Continuing, he said that the road was organized for the purpose of building the line, about seventy miles or more, through the heart of the region to be watered by the Twin Falls project, which is backed by some prominent local and Eastern capitalists, but until the land is watered it will be impossible to do anything on the construction of the line. The plans of the irrigating company include the converting of 20,000 acres to good farming land, which will be thrown open to settlement and will be a big thing for that section of Idaho.

"It is Mr. Harriman's plan," said Mr. Bancroft, "to make every effort to develop such a country and for this reason the whole of the section is eventually to be tapped by the Short Line system and work is to be commenced immediately upon the satisfactory completion of the plans of the land and irrigation company for watering the land. Then the road will be able to see something very bright in the prospect and will do its full share in building up what is now practically a desert section, but what may, in a few years, be one of the rich spots of Idaho."

As to his visit to Chicago, where he met other officials in conference with Mr. Kruttschnitt, Mr. Bancroft stated that the matters discussed were entirely of a private nature, referring to the general operation of the road, and of which he had nothing to say.

May Extend Line to Ogden.

President Bamberger of the Salt Lake & Ogden has never abandoned his project to change the road to an electric line and extend it to Ogden. Regarding the latest reports on his progress, he said yesterday that for a couple of days some friends of his from California had been looking over the line with a view of purchasing some of the bonds of the company, but as they had not closed the deal he thought it would be entirely premature to give the names or attempt to say what would be done. "My plan for years," he said, "has been to change the road to an electric line and push it to Ogden, as I can see where it would prove a very good road in such a case; but until there is something definite I cannot consistently go into details."

Old Friends Greet E. E. Calvin.

E. E. Calvin, the man who made such a marked success of his department on the Short Line and was looked upon as one of the ablest lieutenants on the staff of Mr. Bancroft, came in from Chicago late last evening and was busily engaged, when visible, in shaking hands with old friends who have had no opportunity of congratulating him on his promotion to the management of the Navigation system. Mrs. Calvin and the children are all here at the Kenyon, and the family is preparing to move to Portland, to the regret of all its friends.

Shorter Than the Santa Fe.

When the Salt Lake Route is completed through to Los Angeles, a feature that has been made but little of is the comparison of distance as against the Santa Fe from Colorado. Through the plans of the line, which will be about fourteen miles shorter, and the time will be eleven hours better than via the Santa Fe. This will mean that an additional amount of travel now going over the Santa Fe will eventually pass through Salt Lake from the Grande, which can also be in a position to make the run shorter still by transferring passengers to the new road at Provo. The possibilities of the future in this connection are many.

PARK CITY

TRIBUNE BUREAU,
424 N. Main Street, Telephone 73WOODSIDE MINE PUTS IN SMALL JIGGING PLANT

Special to The Tribune.
PARK CITY, June 10.—Harvey J. Jones, secretary of the Woodside Mining company, is in town today. Work is going ahead rapidly at this mine at present.

The company has already 200 or 300 tons of second-class ore on its dump and a great deal more within the tunnel. They are busy just now in installing a small jigging plant for the purpose of working this ore. Two hauls have been put up just below the dam of the old Silver King tailings dump, and a pipe line is run from here to the mouth of the tunnel. The disc will be ready for operation within the next three or four days, and work on the ore will then begin at once.

This is pay day in camp.

At the Wahsatch mine work is steadily progressing, but Superintendent Gillett reports no new developments. At present the workmen are working from the 500-foot level, and are passing through solid rock, and while it is impossible to tell how soon the vein may be tapped, it is generally believed that it will be before a strike of some kind will be made.

Wang Kong, a Chinese cook on the Union Pacific railroad died yesterday and his body was interred today.

F. J. Westcott, secretary of the Kearns-Kelth Mining company, came up this morning with the payroll for the month. He is believed to be looking favorably at that property.

Miss Grace Emery and a party of friends spent the day yesterday visiting at the Silver King.
